“ Sue and I were first cousins. Sue was born in September of 1946 and I was born in February 1947. We spent many hours playing together as children at her home on Barclay Street. We often attended church together wherever her dad Bill was preaching. Sue was diagnosed with rheumatoid arthritis at around 28 years of age. Sue underwent many different surgeries and treatments. Sue never complained or felt sorry for herself. The entire family admired Sue for her perseverance. Her devoted husband Ken took excellent care of Sue as did her son David. Sue's devotion and love of Jesus Christ saw her through all the tough times. I will miss Sue and hope when my time comes I can display the dignity and fortitude Sue did. I love you Sue. “ Betty was my mom’s last roommate at Countryside and she was a sweet lady. She always had something nice to say to me and once even asked if I could be her daughter. I told her as long as my mom was in the room with her I would be a daughter to them both so I always kissed her and told her I loved her when I had to leave. She didn’t out live my Mom by very long—only about 5 months. I know Betty is up walking and dancing in heaven now. My sympathy to David and the rest of her family.
