It's always gratitude month if I'm sober!

The other day I was reminded of something Kenny V. said more than once, "Grateful alcoholics don't drink." Simple, matter of fact and true.

There have been mornings when I'm not instantly grateful when I get up with my usual aches and pains.

But it only takes a minute or two to bring the world into clearer focus.

I am grateful to be sober, to have a warm bed, coffee, hot water for a shower, clean clothes, and sunlight pouring into the room where I do my morning program.

I'm grateful for having another day to experience this adventure of recovery with surprises and "miracle moments" at every turn – when I look for them.

When I was new, my sponsor suggested gratitude lists, which I obediently compiled.

They still work.

I thank God that I can, indeed, thank God, and most of all, I thank God for A.A.!

Quiet mind via prayer and meditation

Step 11: "Sought prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God, as we understood Him, asking only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out."

Someone said, "The only requirement for serenity is a desire to stop thinking." In early sobriety my raving alcoholic mind was not the least fond of that cliché. It would run full speed ahead all day long and often deep into the night. It would run so fast, and confusingly, that I feared losing my new job at an antique store. Sometimes I felt it necessary to forego lunch and talk with my newly found A.A. friends at a nearby recovery club (26th & Broadway, in Santa Monica, CA). Often, as if by magic, I would be overtaken by an inexplicable calmness. Somehow, once inside, I felt safe in the midst of that A.A. spirit we all know so well. Who needs lunch anyway!

But back to work during the afternoon my mind would resume its attack. What to do? I had learned a spiritual tool that I still use quite often today. I would pray, "Be still and know that I am God." Somehow, and I have never understood why, that simple statement had an immediate calming effect, albeit often short lived, it was welcome indeed! The Big Book tells us that we have a "Great Reality deep down within us" (God). My concept of this is that God is telling my whirling mind to quiet down. Who knows? But it worked then and still does today – great tool!

The French philosopher, René Descartes, is often quoted, "I think, therefore I am." However, I am coming to believe that Bill Wilson's "Great Reality deep within" (p. 55) is like a great over-self that I can utilize through prayer and meditation to bring peace and serenity into my daily life. Actually, by living the Twelve Steps of A.A., I have a certain control over my mind when it goes all catawampus.

Step Eleven tells how to find calm by having a reflective sort of meditation before going to bed at night and asking God for forgiveness (p. 86) and how to prepare for the day in the morning and how to remain spiritually fit (calm) throughout the day. Read Eleventh Step promises on page 88.

Intergroup wants you!

Are you interested in learning more about Intergroup? Does your program feel stale? Are you taking your sobriety for granted? Or do you just like meeting new people?

Intergroup can offer you all that and more – we have several committee openings and would love to have you join us, so we decided to come up with a little incentive!

Starting January 2019, we will be raffling off one item purchased from Central Office. It could be a book, pamphlet, lead CD, etc. To be eligible for the drawing you must attend an Intergroup meeting. Tickets will be passed out upon entry and the drawing will be the last thing done before closing the meeting.

Please come see what we are all about and we hope you choose to join us and help keep Alcoholics Anonymous strong in the Dayton and surrounding areas.

Honest, Openminded, Willing

It is a sign that hung on the wall then, and still hangs in that room thirty years later. Never once did it vocalize, but it spoke volumes to me. I'd seen it many times, but one day the words had meanings. It was the day after my last drunk.

Those hideous four horsemen were with me that morning, nudging

A Thanksgiving letter to God

Dear Heavenly Father,

There are so many things that I am thankful for: Things I never paid attention to, like the moon, stars, sun, daytime, nighttime, birds, rivers, lakes, seas and especially You, God.

There are so many things I took for granted. For instance, when You wake me up and start me on my way for the day, how you give me eyes to see, a nose to smell, teeth to clean, hair to comb and a smile that covers my whole face. You gave me arms to lift with and carry things like my Bible and my A.A. literature.

You gave me hands to keep clean, nails to polish, fingers for rings and to write with. You gave me knees to kneel on when I need and want to pray and share things with You.

You gave me legs to walk in your footsteps, to run races for You, God, and to jump hurdles for my Lord. Then You gave me courage and ambition to strive to be the very best I can be for my God.

Most of all, I'm thankful because You made me whole gain.

You put a son (Robert) in my life and I couldn't ask for better one, and grandkids that I will cherish for the rest of my life.

You gave me wisdom to help others who are more unfortunate than me.

You gave me a strong body and mind to say, "OK, Debbie, let's get busy, you've got work to do!"

When I lie down after I hit my knees I can hear my God say, "Well done, my good and faithful servant."

— Debbie S.

Step 11

Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood him, praying only for knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out.

In the 12&12 it states that this step is "our principal means of conscious contact with God." (pg.96).

Pray everyday. You may not think it works, however, it won't hurt you. "Better men than we are using it constantly. It works, if we have the proper attitude and work at it." (Big Book, pg.85-86).

Just what is prayer and meditation? I believe prayer is talking with my Higher Power and meditation is listening to my Higher Power. Not just hearing, but listening. The message is all around me if I take the cotton out of my ears and put it in my mouth.

The Big Book provides step-by-step instructions on pages 85-88. "When we retire at night, we constructively review our day... after making our review we ask God's forgiveness and inquire what corrective measures should be taken." (pg.86). "On awakening, let us think about the twenty-four hours ahead... we ask God to direct our thinking, especially asking that it be divorced from self-pity, dishonest or self-seeking motives." (pg.86). "As we go through the day we pause, when agitated or doubtful, and ask for the right thought or action." (pg.87). When I am deeply disturbed I concentrate on the prayer of St. Francis (12&12, pg.99).

Try to avoid asking your Higher Power to do it "your" way. With specific requests I always add, "if it be Thy will." Be careful what you pray for, it just might come true. Remember, not only do you have to have faith in the outcome, but you have to accept that the outcome is the right one. This step is all about spirituality for me. In the 12&12 I am given the best reason to do this step every day: "Perhaps one of the greatest rewards of meditation and prayer is the sense of belonging that comes to us. We no longer live in a completely hostile world." (pg.105) Worry stops where faith begins but "Faith without works is dead."

Tradition 11 (Long Form)

"Our relations with the general public should be characterized by personal anonymity. We think A.A. ought to avoid sensational advertising. Our names and pictures as A.A. members ought not be broadcast, filmed, or publicly printed. Our public relations should be guided by the principle of attraction rather than promotion. There is never need to praise ourselves. We feel it is better to let our friends recommend us."

Like our other traditions, the Eleventh Tradition was born out of experience. A.A.'s forerunner, the Oxford Groups were aggressively evangelical, seeking out prominent people in high places to convert and therefore promote its aim. This practice eventually was the cause of much controversy for them.

Bill saw the danger to the alcoholic of seeking public recognition. To the public, one A.A. member is A.A. so the actions of the individual represent A.A. as a whole. If the individual slipped, or did something to cast a bad light on A.A. as a whole, it would greatly handicap A.A.'s ability to carry its message to the still suffering alcoholic. The principle of anonymity that is Tradition 11 should always be one of our most important principles, if not the most important. It is equally important at both the personal and public level. At the personal level, because it protects members from identification as alcoholics, a safeguard that makes A.A. attractive to newcomers.

At the public level by suggesting A.A. members never use their A.A. affiliation to achieve recognition, power, or personal gain. It is no secret that the internet has been an area of great concern over anonymity breaks. In 2012 our General Service Office requested fellowship-wide sharing about changing the short form of tradition eleven to include current media technologies such as the internet.

The 63rd General Service Conference affirmed that the Internet, social media and all forms of public communications are implicit in the last phrase of the Short Form of Tradition Eleven, which reads: at the level of press, radio, and films.

Concept 11

While the Trustees hold final responsibility for A.A.'s world service administration, they should always have the assistance of the best possible standing committees, corporate service directors, executives, staffs, and consultants. Therefore the composition of these underlying committees and service boards, the personal qualifications of their members, the manner of their induction into service, the systems of their rotation, the way in which they are related to each other, the special rights and duties of our executives, staffs, and consultants, together with a proper basis for the financial compensation of these special workers, will always be matters for serious care and concern.

A.A. deserves nothing less than the best. We seek out the best possible people to help our Board of Trustees. By forming these helpers into committees, we have a group of people who can create group conscience.

This is how the Committee System works, with the Trustees' Committees. This is also true throughout A.A., at Intergroup, District and Area. When we get together as a group, we are smarter.

There are no second-class citizens in A.A. At the Trustees' Committees, all are peers creating group conscience, from the newest staff member to the most seasoned, experienced director.

We see this principle in our home groups, too. The newcomer with 5 months sobriety gets one vote, so does the member with 25 years. Every member has a unique and valuable contribution to make. In A.A., everyone participates fully.

We deserve the best at all levels of A.A. Service. If we put Concept XI into practice, we are sure to get it.

Alternate Delegate
Panel 68, Area 56 Southwest Ohio

Where is your bottom?

Do you think you have hit it yet? Rock bottom doesn't look the same to everyone. Not everyone requires a trip to prison or losing his or her kids in order to seek help. What will it take for you to realize you're sick and tired of being sick and tired?

For me, it was exhaustion. The lies, the sneaking, the hangovers, shame, anxiety, depression, weight gain, constant stomach issues and lethargy. All I did was think about booze. And when I wasn't thinking about booze, I was thinking about how awful I felt, and how badly I needed more booze. There was next to nothing I would let keep me from getting more alcohol.

And once I started up again, there was no stopping, and my judgment went out the window. I scared people. I scared my kids. I drove drunk with my kids in the car! One night I passed out drunk, and my husband woke me up because I puked in my sleep. If he wouldn't have been there, I would have choked on my own vomit and died. I lost a job because of my drinking, but that wasn't the bottom for me. I blamed that job loss on the management (because to an alcoholic, nothing is "my" fault). I lost quality friends, because they didn't want to be around me anymore. At the time, I considered them my "fun-sucker" friends, because they just didn't know how to have fun like me, and they were jealous (eyeroll). Turns out, most of those friends were terribly concerned for me, and many of these relationships have rekindled, and are now as healthy as ever. And, of course, my family — my poor family. They tried their best to express their concern to me, but I wouldn't have it. I'm flat-out surprised my sister didn't write me off for good. We put our families through hell, and we are blind to it. I am forever indebted to their unending love and support while they stuck with me through the years. The most effective amends we can make is changed behavior, and I am most definitely on the right path.

So, I wouldn't say that my rock bottom was ONE specific incident. It was a series of days and nights of the same, insane behavior.

Everyone has a choice. Once recovery is presented to you, you can choose it. I know you can, because I did. You don't HAVE TO be arrested. You don't HAVE TO lose your kids. You don't HAVE TO be homeless. You can choose recovery RIGHT NOW. You do not have to take another drink or another drug in your life, if you so choose. I know it seems as though I'm simplifying things. I'm aware that some of us (including yours truly) need detox and medical support. Maybe you're already reading this, and the DT's are over, or you didn't have them. Maybe you've already made your choice, and you chose recovery. And if you have, AMAZING JOB! YOU GOT THIS! ONE DAY AT A TIME! And if you're just now starting to dabble in recovery, your bottom doesn't have to be any lower. This is up to you. Where is your bottom?

— Anna F.

Next Intergroup meeting: Nov 8th at 7 p.m. at St. John Lutheran Church, Fifth and Ludlow Streets, downtown. Free parking behind church.

Area 56 news

Combined Districts 12 and 13 hosted Share A Day VIII on Saturday, Oct. 13 at the Covenant Community Church in Fairfield, OH. People from all over the area gathered to share a day of experience, strength and hope. There were discussions, speakers, presentations, displays, door prizes and a sobriety countdown. The day concluded with a lead at 3 pm. People came from Cincinnati, Dayton and from our northernmost cities near Sydney and Celina.

Looking at the variety of topics that each person presenting was able to share, I noticed a common item that provides valuable information and gives direction to A.A.s everywhere. I am referring to a pamphlet titled, The A.A. Group...Where It All Begins. It was helpful for my presentation on Safety in A.A. along with other service material. This pamphlet gives some very practical answers to how an A.A. group functions, addresses the service structure inside the group, including service positions and how the group relates to the community. The pamphlet also talks about What is an informed Group Conscience? and the A.A. Group Inventory, AA. Business Meetings and how to deal with those problems that arise in groups. Two other resources that provide good information are the pamphlets on Understanding Anonymity and Questions and Answers on Sponsorship.

A good resource for Safety and A.A.: Our Common Welfare, which is Service Material from the General Service Office can be found at www.aa.org where you can also find the Safety Card.

Two Grapevine Issues of interest are The Traditions, Our Protection, November 2016 and Keeping A.A. Safe, from the September, 2013 issue. One of the best ways to keep this alcoholic sober, one day at a time, is to Share A Day!

Delegate, Area 56, Panel 68

Central Office holiday and inventory hours

Central Office of Dayton will be CLOSED on:

- Nov. 22 & 23 for Thanksgiving
- Dec. 24 & 25 for Christmas
- Dec. 28, 29 & 31 for inventory
- Jan. 1 for New Year's Day

Please plan your holiday shopping around this schedule.

As an experiment, Central Office of Dayton will extend Saturday hours in November and December. In addition to our normal hours of 9 a.m. to noon, we will be open from noon to 2 p.m. Saturdays have been very slow (many days no one comes into the office.) Our hope is that by moving to later hours (after all the 10 a.m. meetings are over) we will be available at a more convenient time. If this experiment works, we may change the Saturday hours to 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. instead of 9 a.m. to noon. If we continue to sit in the office by ourselves, we will be forced to close on Saturdays. Please consider making a visit to Central Office in the coming months.

Stop by soon and shop local!

Honest, Openminded, Willing

me into a tenuous willingness to totally acknowledge the meaning behind those words.

Oh, don't get me wrong; I was still skeptical and I was just waiting for any excuse to bolt for the door. What kept me there was the desperate recognition that there was no one and nothing to go back to. No matter what may lay before me, it could never be worse than what lay behind. All was not smooth sailing though. Much confusion remained during the early years. Many things fueled my white knuckled obsession: family and friends who said, "You're not an alcoholic," or "Let's go for a drink." I cried buckets of tears for any reason or no reason. Through it all, there were voices that called, "Keep coming back."

I stayed until "the miracle happened," and wild horses couldn't have dragged me from my seat. Eventually I came to believe that the sign was a direct reference to the first three steps. I would have to be HONEST enough to admit that I had lost control when it came to alcohol, OPEN MINDED enough to believe that there is a Higher Power that could restore me to sanity, and WILLING enough to turn my will and my life over to that Higher Power. I now know that I must repeat those steps as often as necessary in order to keep moving forward. Of course, I had to work the rest of the steps, but it was imperative that I fully absorb those first three in order to benefit fully from the rest of the work. Thank God for A.A.
